

MONDAY EVENING, MAR. 16, 1908.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., March 16.

Target practice has begun at Magdalen Bay. Admiral Evans has sprung another surprise on the Navy Department. Now content with arriving at his destination two days ahead of time and with his entire fleet in better condition than when it left Hampton Roads, he apparently has been working night and day since arrival to get his guns into action to again smash the world's records, and actual firing began yesterday. The better the day the better the deed is the navy motto as was demonstrated at Manila and Santiago, and as all preparations were completed Saturday night, the first guns were fired at sunrise yesterday. This information was conveyed in a telegram to the Navy Department today, in which it was stated that the weather conditions were ideal and that the admiral hoped to do better work than ever before. The fleet arrived 2 days ahead of time, and it was expected that fully four days would be required in which to get position on the ranges and take the boreights. These preparations were concluded one day earlier than expected. Four ranges have been laid out and the ships of the fleet will work by divisions of four. It is expected that now Admiral Evans will be able to smash the target work through within three weeks.

By a vote of three to two the subcommittee of the Senate judiciary committee today decided that all of the bills which purport to give to the States control of liquor traffic in interstate commerce as soon as the shipment crosses the State border are unconstitutional. A report to that effect was made to the full committee together with the suggestion that all of the bills be rejected. The full committee will meet this afternoon to consider the report. The subcommittee consists of Senators Knox, Nelson, and Fulton (rep.), and Bacon and Rayner (dem.). It is understood that the three who voted against the proposed legislation were Knox, Fulton and Rayner.

More than half the total of $8,210,611 carried in the fortifications appropriation bill, as reported to the House today by the appropriations committee, is devoted to fortifying and protecting the insular possessions of the United States and the Pacific coast. The Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands are dealt with generously.

Jumping out of a third story window, at his home, William E. Ridgely, aged 64, an employee of the Postoffice Department, killed himself early this morning. He had been ill with the grip.

The Countess of Buena Vista today lost her case in the Supreme Court of the United States, where she was seeking to recover damages from General John R. Brooke, U. S. A., for abolishing her valuable slaughter house privilege in Havana, Cuba, when Brooke, with his army, took possession of Cuba in 1899. She claimed the right under a grant from the king of Spain. The court held her right was exhausted.

Lee V. Clark has been appointed postmaster at Light, Frederick county, Virginia.

The big packing companies of the west were hit hard by the U. S. Supreme Court today, when it approved the $15,000 fines imposed upon each by the lower courts under the Elkins act, for receiving "concessions" in rates from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad on meat for export. The companies include the Armour, the Swift, the Morris and the Cudahy establishments.

President Roosevelt is anxious to send violators of the pure food law to jail. Today he sent for Prosecuting Attorney Baker of the police court in this city who last week secured the conviction of Mr. Robert N. Harper. Mr. Harper is president of the Chamber of Commerce and of the American National Bank and is very prominent both in business and social circles. He was charged with manufacturing and selling a headache cure which contained poisonous drugs, the labels of which contained no mention or hint of the preparation's dangerous character. Under the law Mr. Harper may be fined $500 or sentenced to six months in jail or both at the discretion of the court. It is believed by Mr. Roosevelt that a jail sentence in the Harper case would have more effect toward insuring respect and observance of the pure food and drug law than a dozen prosecutions of less prominent or wealthy men, or the imposition of a fine.

In the House today Mr. Carlin made a strong speech in favor of restoring the motto "In God We Trust" on the coins of the country.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury J. H. Edwards has accepted the position of receiver of the New Amsterdam National Bank of New York.

Joseph Meyer, the mysterious New Yorker, who made an ineffectual attempt to see the President last night, tried it again this morning with similar lack of success. Meyer saw Senator Beveridge emerge from the White House, and, grasping his hand, said to the Senator, "I am an inspired man. Meyer was finally admitted to Secretary Loebe's office, where he told a rambling story about insurance frauds.

Bryan and Sullivan.

Chicago, Mar. 16.—Before William J. Bryan reaches Chicago to make an address tomorrow evening it is indicated that the democratic dove of peace will have a large "hotbed" placed tied to it at the special request of Roger C. Sullivan. The chance of the breaking out of the feud between Sullivan and Bryan will be very small, it is said, if the Nebraska decides to leave things as he finds them and accept the offering which the Illinois democratic committee is willing to make. But if he endeavors to take a hand in the selection of national committee men there is likely to be a scrap. Mr. Bryan will arrive tomorrow morning. He will address the Irish Fellowship Club at a banquet at the Auditorium and will be presented with a package of shamrock seed sent over from the "ould bog."

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

R. F. Crocker, Esq., now 84 years of age, and for twenty years Justice of the Peace at Martinsburg, Iowa, says: "I am terribly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism in my left arm and right hip. I have used three bottles of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it did me lots of good." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

PUT EARRINGS ON POODLE.

Quite a commotion was caused in the Boulevard Hausmann in Paris the other day, when one of the best-known women in Paris got out of an elegant motor car dressed with a silver chain a tiny poodle dressed in the height of fashion. The dog was wearing a pigskin collar adorned with gold coins, and a little fur coat with a side pocket, from which peeped a small lace handkerchief, while its paws were protected from the damp in India rubber shoes.

In the poodle's ears were two pairs of diamond earrings, one pair in each ear, the ears being pierced at base and at the tip.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

Willie Mothershead, twenty-one years old, a servant, employed by John O'Connell, in Washington, shot and fatally wounded Charles A. Davis, twenty-three years old, a clerk in the Baltimore and Ohio freight office, at North Capital and H streets northwest, Washington, about 11 o'clock last night.

Davis has five bullet wounds in his head, three under the left eye, one at the base of the brain, behind the right ear, and one in the chest, a few inches above the heart. He is at Freedman's Hospital. The girl is held at the House of Detention on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

She said Davis is a son of a Capt. Davis, of Millville, N. J. It is said that the girl was formerly a servant in the employ of the Davis family, and that she has known Davis for four years.

Davis was in an unconscious condition at an early hour this morning, and it was impossible to obtain a statement from him.

The girl told the police that she had met Davis at her mother's home, at Tidewater, Westmoreland county, Va. According to her statement, Davis left Virginia three years ago and went to Washington.

She said that Davis had proposed to her and that he had promised to marry her. A year ago she asked him if he was going to keep his promise, and he replied that he was not ready to get married. About that time Miss Mothershead says she heard that Davis had fallen in love with a young woman who lives in Brightwood avenue northwest.

The doctors say Davis will recover, and the girl says she will marry him if he wants her to do so.

FARM HAND KILLED.

In the house of the manager of Aca stock farm, just across the road from the Deep Run Hunt Club, near Richmond, William Murphy, employed on the farm was shot and instantly killed by Silas Smith, the manager, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The only other occupants of the house were two small children, Mrs. Smith and her daughter not being home at the time.

Smith went out alone to Richmond and gave himself up at the county jail, where he is now confined.

He declares that he was justified in killing Murphy, and that he would commit the act again, for he asserts the dead man had ruined his home and had acted improperly toward his wife and sixteen-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Smith says Murphy's attentions were only friendly, and that her husband was under the influence of liquor when he killed the man.

Early in the evening Smith and his wife became involved in a quarrel about their daughter. Murphy took part in the quarrel, and Smith drove them all out of the house, shooting twice at Murphy as he ran.

They went to the Deep Run clubhouse, across the road, and remained until 2 o'clock, when Murphy returned to Smith's house.

As soon as Murphy entered, Smith drew a gun and shot him in the head. Murphy fell over in Smith's arms and died almost instantly.

Attempt to Rob Collection Plate.

Chicago, Mar. 16.—Emma Moore, said to be the daughter of a former well-known physician of Buffalo, was arrested at the First Presbyterian Church, Evanston, after the Sunday evening service on the charge of trying to steal a five-dollar bill from the collection plate.

It is said the woman is a victim of the drug habit, a result of a sickness in which laudanum was administered to her until she became a victim. At the police station she heard a minister say "here is always hope," and she went into the church, believing that she might pull herself up again. The drug cried out to her and won. When she saw the money she could not resist the temptation to take it, she said.

Lightning Struck Powder Magazine.

Boston, Mar. 16.—The first thunder storm of the year which raged in eastern Massachusetts last evening caused havoc in several towns. At South Attleboro lightning struck a small magazine of the American Powder Company causing it and another to explode. Both magazine buildings were demolished and windows were broken in Mattapan, two and a half miles away. Had the explosion occurred on a work day several lives must have been sacrificed. Lightning ripped up things at Wakefield where it entered the house of Joe O'neary, smashed the dishes and put the furnace and gas meter out of business.

Attempt to Burn Tenement House.

New York, Mar. 16.—An attempt was made by an incendiary to burn a six-story tenement house in which 12 families lived in upper Madison avenue early today. With oil-soaked refuse seven separate fires were started in the basement. Though the fire was extinguished with small damage, the police and firemen say the incendiary evidently planned not only to burn the building but to end the lives of all its tenants. There were many thrilling and narrow escapes from the building.

Today's Telegraphic News.

The Lilly Investigation.

Gen. M. C. Butler, former Senator from South Carolina, went before the Lilly investigation committee today and denied that he had ever lobbied or done anything wrong to influence legislation by Congress in favor of the Electric Boat Company, manufacturer of submarines. He had been counsel for the company, he said, but he had never lobbied for it. On three occasions he addressed the naval affairs committee of the Senate in favor of the company's boat. All this happened while he was an attorney here but after he had left the Senate. "A lobby has no terrors for an honest man," he said, "but I never was engaged in lobbying." When the hearing was resumed this morning, Chairman Bantell announced that the officers of the Electric Boat Company, as requested by Mr. Lilly, will be summoned to testify in the near future, and bring with them the records and documents of the company.

General Butler then took the stand. He said he first wanted to make a statement in behalf of General Eppa Hunton, whose name has been drawn into the Lilly matter.

"A more honorable gentleman never lived," said General Butler.

At this point, Bantell had the clerk read a letter from Eppa Hunton, jr., of Richmond, asking that it be made known that his father was too old and feeble to appear as a witness, but wanted the committee to know he had at one time been counsel for the Holland Boat Company or Electric Boat Company but had not been employed as a lobbyist.

General Butler said that in 1896 or 1897 he was counsel for the Electric Boat Company and his employment extended up to three or four years ago. One year, he said, he was paid $2,400 a year. "After that he was paid varying amounts. It was while I was engaged in practicing law here," said the general. "One thing I did was to represent the company before the Senate naval affairs committee. The most valuable service I rendered the company was the argument I made before the committee."

"I said then and repeat here that submarine boats are good things and this country ought to have one hundred of them."

"Did you ever approach individual Senators on this matter?" asked Representative Howard of Georgia, in behalf of the committee.

"Never."

"Did you ever entertain Senators on behalf of your boat company?" continued Howard.

"There was a demonstration boat down in the Potomac at one time and I invited some Senators to go down to the tug and see the boat. I saw nothing wrong in that. For what I did, I have no apologies to make, either to Mr. Lilly or anybody else. I see Mr. Lilly has talked about an 'organized lobby' here. 'I'd like to know what he means by that.'"

C. E. Greecy followed Representative Howard. He was the original attorney for the Holland Boat Company.

Conditions in Hayti.

Kingston, March 16.—The wildest rumors are circulating here of attacks on the residences of foreign diplomatic representatives at Port au Prince and Gonaives, Hayti, and of further official massacres of natives suspected of participation in anti-government conspiracies.

So strict is the censorship out of Port au Prince that definite information is lacking since the news of yesterday's execution of nine suspects and the government's subsequent written demand on the French and German ministers for the surrender of all the revolutionists harbored with them.

American, British, German and French war vessels, it is said, have been ordered to Hayti.

The sudden outbreak of violence is generally accepted as having broken off the negotiations under which it was expected the refugees in the various consulates would be permitted to leave Hayti under pledge never to return.

London, Mar. 16.—Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith informed the House of Commons today that the cruiser Ordre de Malte and the armored cruiser Ordre de Malte have been ordered to Hayti, where alarming conditions are said to prevail with threats of attacks on the foreign consulates and diplomatic representatives.

Hitchcock Discharged.

New York, March 16.—Giving the prosecution the biggest "jolt" which it had received and practically destroying all hope of confirming the charges made by Helen Von Hagen against Raymond Hitchcock, Flora Whison, one of the girls alleged to have accused the actor of abusing them, flatly denied on the witness stand today that she had ever gone to Hitchcock's room in the "house of the stained glass panels" where the prosecution charged the Von Hagen girl was wronged. Flora, it was charged by the state, was present when the alleged assault occurred. She directly contradicted her testimony before the grand jury.

New York, Mar. 16.—Raymond Hitchcock was honorably discharged and formally dismissed early this afternoon on the charge of wronging Helen Von Hagen.

Justice Blanchard said that the girl's confession and the charges she made that agents of the Gerry Society intimidated her, was so serious a matter that the district attorney must make an investigation. Hitchcock is still held on the charges made by Elsie Voreks and Prosecutor Garvan promised he would seek an early trial.

Flora Whitton has been arrested on a charge of perjury.

Under instructions from the court the jury returned the formal verdict of acquittal without leaving their seats.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 16.—There was no interruption to the upward movement that has now prevailed for over ten days, and prices of the leading issues on the exchange this morning made further important gains over the high levels reached on Saturday. There are many reports about reduced dividend payments and decreased earnings which were used by the trading element as a reason for fighting the market, but the room had no following and whatever outside business came in was on the buying side of the market and helped along the advance. In government bonds the two registered advanced 1/2 per cent. Railroad and other bonds were strong.

After the first hour some large operators forced a moderate recession in the most active issues. Business fell off in volume and at midday the market was again of a professional character. The range of prices at midday generally showed advances over Saturday's close.
